See, Acknowledge, Remember:
Reading Female Subjectivity in Ancient Jewish Texts

Pia Antonia Sophia Regensburger

In this talk Pia will examine the roles women play in Old Testament and other Jewish writings. Are they stereotyped by the writers or are their women writing about themselves- what can we learn for ourselves today? Proposing a fresh and novel approach to reading the Bible through a redefined feminism, Pia will show how using this new framework can better enrich and engage critical readings of the Bible in a community.

Pia graduated with a first-class honours degree from the University of Oxford in 2023 and is currently studying for an MPhil in Theology (Hebrew Bible) at Oriel College. She is the winner of this year's postgraduate essay prize from the British and Irish Association for Jewish Studies and holder of the Senior and Junior Pusey & Ellerton Prizes, as well as the Hall-Houghton Septuagint Prize.
