

MAN'S RESPONSE TO GOD

'We Believe' – 'Throughout the world the holy Church proclaims her faith in you'

"LORD, LOOK UPON THE FAITH OF YOUR CHURCH"

Each believer is a link in the great chain of believers

Faith is a personal act - the free response of the human person to the initiative of God who reveals himself. But faith is not an isolated act. No one can believe alone, just as no one can live alone. You have not given yourself faith as you have not given yourself life. The believer has received faith from others and should hand it on to others. Our love for Jesus and for our neighbour impels us to speak to others about our faith. Each believer is thus a link in the great chain of believers. I cannot believe without being carried by the faith of others, and by my faith I help support others in the faith. (166)

The Church teaches us to say both 'I believe' and 'We believe'

"I believe" (Apostles' Creed) is the faith of the Church professed personally by each believer, principally during Baptism. "We believe" (Niceno-Constantinopolitan Creed) is the faith of the Church confessed by the bishops assembled in council or more generally by the liturgical assembly of believers. "I believe" is also the Church, our mother, responding to God by faith as she teaches us to say both "I believe" and "We believe". (167)

We receive faith through the Church

It is the Church that believes first, and so bears, nourishes and sustains my faith. Everywhere, it is the Church that first confesses the Lord: "Throughout the world the holy Church proclaims her faith in you", as we sing in the hymn Te Deum; with her and in her, we are won over and brought to confess: "I believe", "We believe".

In Baptism we receive faith and the offer of eternal life

It is through the Church that we receive faith and new life in Christ by Baptism. In the Rituale Romanum, the minister of Baptism asks the catechumen: "What do you ask of God's Church?" And the answer is: "Faith". "What does faith offer you?" "Eternal life". (168)

The Church is the mother of our faith

Salvation comes from God alone; but because we receive the life of faith through the Church, she is our mother: "We believe the Church as the mother of our new birth, and not in the Church as if she were the author of our salvation" (Faustus of Riez). Because she is our mother, she is also our teacher in the faith. (169)

THE LANGUAGE OF FAITH

Formulations express faith and help us to hand it on

We do not believe in formulas, but in those realities they express, which faith allows us to touch. "The believer's act [of faith] does not terminate in the propositions, but in the realities [which they express]" (St Thomas Aquinas). All the same, we do approach these realities with the help of formulations of the faith which permit us to express the faith and to hand it on, to celebrate it in community, to assimilate and live on it more and more. (170)

The Church our mother teaches us the language of faith

The Church, "the pillar and bulwark of the truth", faithfully guards "the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints" (1 Tim 3:15; Jude 3). She guards the memory of Christ's words; it is she who from generation to generation hands on the apostles' confession of faith. As a mother who teaches her children to speak and so to understand and communicate, the Church our Mother teaches us the language of faith in order to introduce us to the understanding and the life of faith. (171)

ONLY ONE FAITH

One Lord, one Baptism, one faith

Through the centuries, in so many languages, cultures, peoples and nations, the Church has constantly confessed this one faith, received from the one Lord, transmitted by one Baptism, and grounded in the conviction that all people have only one God and Father. (172)

The witness of this faith in the early Church – St Irenaeus

St. Irenaeus of Lyons [AD 140-202], a witness of this faith, declared: “Indeed, the Church, though scattered throughout the whole world, even to the ends of the earth, having received the faith from the apostles and their disciples... guards [this preaching and faith] with care, as dwelling in but a single house, and similarly believes as if having but one soul and a single heart, and preaches, teaches and hands on this faith with a unanimous voice, as if possessing only one mouth.” (173)

“For though languages differ throughout the world, the content of the Tradition is one and the same. The Churches established in Germany have no other faith or Tradition, nor do those of the Iberians, nor those of the Celts, nor those of the East, of Egypt, of Libya, nor those established at the centre of the world...” The Church’s message “is true and solid, in which one and the same way of salvation appears throughout the whole world.” (174)

“We guard with care the faith that we have received from the Church, for without ceasing, under the action of God’s Spirit, this deposit of great price, as if in an excellent vessel, is constantly being renewed and causes the very vessel that contains it to be renewed.” (175)

IN BRIEF

- “Believing” is an ecclesial act. The Church’s faith precedes, engenders, supports and nourishes our faith. The Church is the mother of all believers. “No one can have God as Father who does not have the Church as Mother” (St. Cyprian). (181)
- We believe all “that which is contained in the word of God, written or handed down, and which the Church proposes for belief as divinely revealed” (Pope Paul VI). (182)
